Personality Project

Directions: Tell me about you and your personality! Personality is the unique combination of feelings, thoughts and behaviors that make you you! This project gives you many options to share your personality with others!

1. Take a moment to brainstorm a project that will describe you and your personality.

2. Use the materials available in class (or the materials you have at home if you choose) to create any project that will describe you and your personality!

3. Make sure to write your first and last name, your hour and your rotation day on the back of your project.

4. Have fun and be creative describing your personality!

5. This project will be due the next health day at the beginning of class. If you do not finish your project during class work time, it will become homework.

6. Use your time wisely and stay on task during work time.

Grading: You will receive 5 points for turning in a completed project on time. Late assignments can be turned in until the test day for a unit.
